

When it's time for the officiant to present the couple that was just married—to pronounce their newly married status—it is customary to say some special words. The list below offers a number of references for such wording. To search for further examples, Google “wedding pronouncement words” or “wedding ending rituals”, etc.

1. Young, Hip & Married (website) — “15 Wedding Pronouncements to End Your Wedding Ceremony”

<https://www.younghipandmarried.com/15-pronouncements-end-ceremony/>

2. Offbeat Wed (website) — “20 alternative wedding pronouncement examples to go WAY beyond ‘I now pronounce you...’ ”

<https://offbeatwed.com/alternative-wedding-pronouncements/>

3. Provenance (website) — “What Is a Pronouncement at Your Ceremony? Modern and Traditional Examples”

<https://www.provenance.co/post/what-is-a-pronouncement-at-your-ceremony-modern-and-traditional-examples>

4. Pinterest (website) — “44 Marriage Pronouncements”

<https://www.pinterest.com/marrymeinindylc/marriage-pronouncements-wedding/>

5. NHWeddingCeremonies.com (website) — “Pronouncement of Marriage For a Wedding Ceremony (alternate selections)”

<https://selections.nhweddingceremonies.com/pronouncement-of-marriage.html>

6. Wedding Ceremony Choices (website) — “Closing”

<https://weddingceremonychoices.weebly.com/closing.html>